

Electronic Access to Federal Documents

CourtTrax is pleased to announce the expansion of its documents retrieval services. Just as with our introduction of King County Superior Court documents earlier this year, you can now save time and money downloading both Federal Bankruptcy and Federal District court documents directly through CourtTrax.

Why Use CourtTrax Instead Of PACER?

* Instead of having to navigate multiple web pages and links for details on party and attorney information, docket information, document count, number of pages, and document descriptions, CourtTrax populates all of this important information onto a single case detail report for easy review.

* All cases and associated documents retrieved in your search are stored in your "Saved Search" list. This means that, unlike when using PACER, you can review previous searches and documents any time you wish, without having to initiate another search or incur any additional charges.

* CourtTrax allows for the selection of multiple jurisdictions in one search. You may also select multiple documents to download and print simultaneously.

* CourtTrax offers the same benefit as PACER by capping the retrieval of any single document at thirty pages; that is, no matter how many pages a single document may include, you are only charged for the first thirty pages!

* Cost allocation is a snap with monthly billing and client/matter numbers clearly assigned to each search.

Documents Handling Features

Documents retrieved through CourtTrax can be selected for download individually or collectively from the case detail report, and can then be saved into a single ZIP file you can download right to your desktop.

As well, all previously downloaded documents are checked-off so that you do not inadvertently download the same document twice.

CourtTrax is diligently working to further expand our document retrieval services within Washington State. Let us know where you would like us to go next!

You track your business with Client/Matter Numbers, and CourtTrax can too!

The ability to accurately bill your CourtTrax searches and associated costs to a specific client may be an integral part of your business, and CourtTrax is here to help.

All CourtTrax users have the option of tracking their searches by individual Client/Matter Numbers, directly through the "Search Title" field. All you need to do is contact us to rename the "Search Title" field to "Client/Matter Number." We can even make this a mandatory field when running a search to better service your specific billing needs.
