

Multi-Page Saved Searches preserves your work

The new Multi-Page Saved Searches feature automatically saves all your searches for 60 days regardless of the number of searches you run. This new feature was requested by several power users making its way to the top of our development list by popular demand! In the past the CourtTrax Saved Search Reports list held only 20 Saved Searches. Some users "lost" search results after they ran multiple searches and quickly overfilled the Saved Search list. With Multi-Page Saved Searches you never lose a Saved Search.

Multi-Page retains 25 Saved Search links per page. For more information, logon to CourtTrax, click on Help, then click the link titled Saved Search Reports.

News: Case Multi-Trieve built into Name Reports

Frequently our users want to retrieve several cases listed on a name search report. Now you can launch multiple Case Detail reports directly from the name report by checking boxes on the report that correspond to specific case numbers. This is a real time saver compared to launching each report individually. Click here for more information on report-based case Multi-Trieve.

Clues: How to hide sections of the search form

The Courts and Saved Searches sections on the CourtTrax Search Form can be collapsed to hide that section on the form. This is accomplished by clicking the +/- box on the upper left hand of each section header. This is a welcome feature if you seldom use these sections of the search form. For example, if you always run your searches in the same county and court, you can hide the Courts Panel by simply clicking on the + box in the Courts Panel upper left corner. The panel will minimize to only show the Header Line. Click on the - sign and the panel will expand back to its full size.

Reviews: Printing multiple cases in one print command

Last month we talked about the multi-print feature on the Saved Searches list. Click the check boxes next to the report title, then click on the Printer Icon at the top of the Saved Searches list to individually print the reports you selected on the List. This Multi-print feature also works across pages with the Multi-Page Saved Searches list. Also you will notice that some of the report web controls displayed on the report on-screen do not appear on the printed version of the same report.

Stay tuned as we add more requested features to the "With-Selected" boxes in the future. Look for Reports Renaming, Re-running Reports, and Case Watching in upcoming releases.
